This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. NOTE BY THE AUTHOR.

THE Author believes this book to be unique, so far as the churches with which it deals are concerned. To the historical student it will be of value in giving him the main facts in the life of a congregation, from which he may possibly be able to build up its full and ample story; whilst to the general reader it will be useful in answering that oft-asked question:—"Where can we find something about our congregation?"

For ten years the Author has been collecting and verifying the details; he has tried to do his best, but it is only to be expected that where some hundreds of names and dates are concerned, errors have crept in, and have not been discovered.

Being himself a student, and deeply interested in the varied stories of the churches noted in these pages, he has long felt the want of such a volume of reference, and will feel amply repaid if his researches should prove of value to others.

He has personally visited over 200 of the churches, and has inspected more than 500 separate pieces of the Sacramental plate, and other antiquities mentioned in these pages.

The Author would be wanting in courtesy and in gratitude, did he not here heartily thank every one of his correspondents, clerical and lay, who have responded so willingly to his questions and enquiries. Where so very many persons have helped it is impossible to thank all; he knows no one will be offended if, as representatives of especial departments of assistance, he only here thanks by name:—

The Rev. JAMES MARTINEAU, D.D., who in addition to many points of detail, so largely solved the knotty question of title, by suggesting one which should best describe the varied contents of the book, and who, in one of his letters to the author, says:—"I heartily wish, though I cannot sanguinely hope, that your valuable historical labours may check the tendency of our fellow-worshipping people to lose sight of the fundamental anti-dogmatic principle of their forefathers. The protesters against the abuse of the name 'Unitarian' are, I fear, a small minority; the great mass of our congregations being as much wedded to their type of 'orthodoxy' as the professors of the Westminster Confession of Faith to their ampler formulary. Under present circumstances the question of title is difficult. On looking over your table of contents, I fancied that the whole would be covered, and not more than covered, by such a phrase as 'Documents and Vestiges of Early Nonconformity of' (proper descriptions of the geographical range). If this phrase seems to promise too much, as if a view were offered of the whole of the local Nonconformity, it might be limited by saying 'Some Documents and Vestiges.'

The term 'Anti-trinitarian' is, I think, still more misleading than 'Unitarian' as applied to the old congregations legalised under the Toleration Act."

Rev. A. GORDON, M.A., who has revised some parts of some of the lists, including those of Irish congregations, some of which are here printed for the first time.

Mr. WALTER J. EVANS, M.A., who has furnished the Author with a multitude of facts and figures relating to Ministers educated at the Caermarthen Presbyterian College, and whose researches into the history of Unitarianism in Wales have enabled him to render especial assistance in the compilation of the Welsh successions, most of which also appear in print in these pages for the first time.

Rev. J. EDWIN ODGERS, M.A., the Hibbert Lecturer at Oxford, for information on many points.

Rev. PEARSON MCADAM MUIR, D.D., of Glasgow Cathedral, for assistance as welcome as it was unexpected and valuable.

The late DEAN (PYE SMITH) OF CANTERBURY; the DEAN and the CHAPTER CLERK OF WORCESTER; the REV. KENTISH BACHE, Vicar of Walford-on-Wye, and Mr. W. H. HAMILTON ROGERS, F.S.A., of Colyton, for tho loan of rare volumes, and other help.

The late Rev. EDWARD MYERS, F.G.S., Shrewsbury, for much painstaking, careful research and personal help; characteristic features in his life well-known to those privileged to enjoy his friendship.

Mr. J. HIBBERT SWANN, of the Manchester Free Reference Library, for carefully verifying many literary details.

Of the 24 illustrations, no less than 19 are from the talented pen of Mr. GEORGE H. BURGESS, Ipswich, the bearer of an old family name long and deservedly honoured in Unitarian annals. His delicate and trustworthy sketches add materially to the value and the interest of the book they adorn.

The Belfast illustrations are from blocks lent by Messrs. MARCUS WARD & Co.; the Whitchurch font is from a sketch by Miss S. A. DOIDGE, now almost the last friend living who knew the Author's grandparents and other members of his family in the old Colyton days.

The photograph of the interior of the ancient Norman Chapel of Kirkstead, with the pulpit used (1715–1733) by the Rev. John Taylor, D.D., of Hebrew Concordance fame, was only secured in a way as original, as it was successful, under the most adverse of circumstances.

In the prosaic but necessary matter of proof reading and corrections, the Author's thanks are tendered to a friend and companion in many years of common work and worship, who has always been ready to help in this and other ways.

INTRODUCTION.

It will be noticed that the accounts of every church (arranged in alphabetical order of places) are divided into five portions:—

(a). Dates of congregations being founded and buildings erected.

(b). List of ministers and their years of office.

(c). Plate and other treasures.

This arrangement has been adopted because it seemed the one which should best serve the purpose of giving such particulars as are of primary necessity in any enquiry respecting the history of a church. Generally speaking, it may be said that the particulars have been gathered into this small compass from the most trustworthy, and, in many cases, original sources. Documents, deeds, early treasurers' accounts, minute books, and registers, have been made to yield their harvests.

It is a regrettable fact, but one which has to be faced, that so many congregations seem to take little or no interest in their archives and muniments,—minute books, when finished, instead of being promptly deposited in the vestry safe (how few vestries have one!) generally remain in the secretary's private possession, with the inevitable result that, after his death, or his ceasing to hold office, they disappear, and in course of time are entirely lost. Far more attention is paid to the care of the congregation's coals, or its crockery, than to its valuable MSS. and other records of the past. Cases could be cited, within the author's personal knowledge, where papers of great historical interest were seen in one of the church libraries, and consulted so late as 1872, but which were lost in 1886; of an eighteenth century minute book being used to prop up a lame table; of a preaching diary or vestry register, containing more than forty autographs of different ministers, being found in the waste paper hole, ready for the next fire-kindling; to say nothing of that process known as "clearing out the rubbish," which "rubbish," before now, has included a memorial brass; rare old, but dusty volumes from the church library; and time-yellowed papers from the vestry table drawer. With these forces continually at work, the wonder is not that we have lost so little, but that, fortunately, so much remains.

On the other hand, some churches now exercise the greatest care in the custody of their archives. In one case, a series of well-kept minute books, unbroken from 1810, with MSS. of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, are safely housed under the immediate control of responsible officials; in another old congregation every deed and minute book has, for years past, been handed on from minister to minister; whilst, in yet another church, a list of the manuscript books and other archives is kept in the vestry, with a note stating where they are to be consulted. By degrees, congregations will awake to a sense of their responsibility in these matters, and take more care of their records.

(a). Dates of Congregations being Founded and Buildings Erected.

One word of warning seems necessary under this heading. The date of the beginning or founding of a congregation is one thing—often very hard to be exactly stated—and widely different from that of the date of the building; but frequently we find the two confounded. Too great care in this matter cannot be exercised by the historian who desires to give an accurate account of the congregation about which he writes. Every likely source should be explored if the work is to be of real benefit; deeds should be hunted up, and carefully read; the building, if an old one, should be thoroughly examined for any dates which may be on the walls, the water spouts, the bell, the rafters, the pews, and the inscriptions on the earliest gravestones should be deciphered as correctly as possible; in fact, nothing must be neglected as too insignificant, and nothing must be taken on hearsay only.

Attention should always be turned to the reliable MS. volumes by Walter Wilson, stored in Dr. Williams's Library, Gordon Square, and to the early registers of the congregation, which will probably be found in Somerset House, Strand. Not infrequently, an historical account of the greatest value will be found in the baptismal or burial register, carefully and lovingly written there by some former minister who had access to sources now closed.

(b). Lists of Ministers and their Years of Office.

Here, again, we come to a fruitful source of error, especially in particulars of the earlier ministers. From a fairly long experience, the author thinks there is nothing more difficult, of its kind, than precisely to locate and time some of the ministers from 1662 to 1710. Care should always be taken to distinguish between minister and assistant; and, above all, never to assume, without some authority, that the successor must of necessity have been appointed immediately his predecessor died, or ceased in his office as minister. In these pages more than ordinary care has been taken in this matter, but the author feels sure there must still be cases of inaccuracy, and he will feel obliged to anyone who will direct his attention to them.

In hunting for particulars of a minister, and with little or no data to guide him, the historian cannot do better than first try to get the date of death. With this in his possession, he most frequently has the key which will unlock the treasure-house. Some biography or obituary will probably be found in local or denominational periodicals about the time of death, or included in any funeral sermon which may have been printed.

For particulars of the ejected men of 1662, there is Calamy's Account, 1713, and Continuation, 1727, abridged in Palmer's Nonconformist's Memorial, first edition, 1775; second edition, 1802–3. Attention should be given to "Evans's List," as it is popularly known, being Lists of Presbyterian, Independent and Baptist Congregations in England, prepared for Dr. John Evans, 1714–29, and now stored in Dr. Williams's Library. A printed version of this, more or less inaccurate, is given in The History of the Litigation and Legislation Respecting Presbyterian Chapels and Charities in England and Wales between 1816 and 1849, by T. S. James (1867). The Record of Unitarian Worthies (1877), the Record of the Provincial Assembly of Lancashire and Cheshire (1896), and the Dictionary of National Biography, now approaching completion, and to be found in most public libraries, will all be of use to the historian.

Unless where much searching has failed to discover them, the Christian name or names of all ministers should always be printed in full. By not adopting this course, endless confusion has been and still is being caused between contemporary men having the same initials.

(c). Plate and other Treasures.

In describing the plate, the term chalice is used for a vessel with two handles and a foot. All the primitive chalices have handles, the definition of calix being a cup with two handles and a foot. The cup without handles seems to have been originally a secular vessel, but came into sacred use at the time of the withdrawal of the cup from the laity.

The various styles of chalices, cups, beakers, and pots will be found in the illustrations.

So far as the author is aware, there are no golden vessels in the possession of any of the churches—only those of silver, pewter, and plated metal.

Amongst the oldest pieces are one of the cups (1576–77) at George's Meeting, Exeter; one of the beakers (1631–32?) at Great Meeting, Yarmouth; and the peculiar chalice (1641–42) at Platt Chapel, Manchester.

Many and varied have been the author's experiences in hunting up particulars of plate and other treasures. He has walked some hundreds of miles, touring about amongst the churches in the United Kingdom. The storehouses in which he has seen the plate range from bankers' and jewellers' vaults in the bowels of the earth to the modest bandbox under the caretaker's bed; from under the Communion table, when not on it, to an unprotected washhouse; from the coalhole, under the gravedigger's tools, to the safe in a grocer's shop.

In the matter of defunct congregations and closed churches, some of their plate has fortunately found its way into the safe custody of Dr. Williams's Library; and in one notable case, that of Warminster, into the hands of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association; but much is lost, or now in private hands. Not without thought the author ventures to suggest that plate, and other articles of historical interest once owned by these dead congregations, should be deposited either with the trustees of Dr. Williams's Library, London, or Manchester College, Oxford. What really does become of such plate? It generally passes into the keeping of the last or senior trustee. In time he dies. What then? Disappearance, loss, and—probably through want of knowledge by executors or survivors—sale, and ultimate appearance as a sugar bason on some lady's tea table. The author knows of four sets of plate, formerly owned by as many defunct congregations, which are now in the keeping of private individuals. One of the sets consists of two silver beakers, made and assayed between 1691 and 1698.

Not infrequently, the inscription on some article of the plate gives us the name by which the place of worship was known in the last century, or earlier. Blackley is a case in point. Here the two fine pewter patens are engraved with the words, "Blackley Dissenters' Chapel, 1791;" to-day we read an illustrated article on "Blackley Unitarian Chapel!!" O tempora! O mores!

It is the author's dearest wish that, should any attention be drawn by this book to the valuable plate and other treasures owned by the churches, it will result in greater care being taken of them, and more interest centred upon them in the future.

(d). Registers.

Under this heading the author has given particulars of the non-parochial registers formerly in the possession of the churches, and now in the custody of the Superintendent Registrar at Somerset House, Strand.

On 13 September, 1836, Commissioners were appointed to enquire into the state, custody, and authenticity of non-parochial registers. Letters of enquiry were sent to the various churches in England and Wales requesting information, and suggesting the transfer of the records to Somerset House on the plea of safe custody and facility of access. This request was optional, and some congregations (Gorton, Stourbridge, etc., e.g.) declined to part with their registers, whilst other congregations secured certified copies before allowing the originals to go to London. Down to 1889, access free of charge was enjoyed by properly accredited persons to search and make extracts from these records for historical and literary purposes. In that year the Registrar-General refused free access, on the ground of want of necessary accommodation for applicants. The matter was promptly brought before the House of Commons, and Government was asked by Mr. J. Carvell Williams, M.P., to make representations to the Registrar-General to restore the facilities enjoyed for many years. On 30 May, 1895, it was announced in Parliament that "the Registrar-General has made arrangements for the accommodation of any gentleman whose application is backed by an introduction by any M.P. or other well-known person, and who wishes to consult, for literary and historical purposes, the Non-parochial Registers and Records which are deposited at Somerset House. No fees will be charged for searching the registers by persons duly accredited." Since that date, every facility has been granted.

The particulars given as to the dates of the registers, etc., are taken from a copy of a Blue Book of 1841, in the author's possession.

(e). Topography.

Full particulars of the authorities consulted will be found in the List of Contractions; whilst works and histories peculiar to the church under consideration will be found in the Topography. With one or two exceptions, the author has in his library all the histories and monographs mentioned.

The hours for worship were so ordered that the different congregations had both morning and afternoon services, and occasionally an evening lecture. On one of the Sabbaths J. Cornish preached three times, and besides the usual services, the sacrament was administered to the members of the Establishment." cf. M. R., 1823, p. 620.

CHRIST CHURCH CHAPEL,
BRIDGWATER.

The following entry I copied from the Treasurer's MS. book, in custody of W. T. Holland, The Lions, Bridgwater, on 16 August, 1893.—G. E. E.:—

"9 May, 1755. The Trustees of the Presbyterian Meeting-house in Bridgwater bought of John and Mary Sealy two large silver qt. Cupps, wch. weighed 28 ounces at 6s. per oz., which came to £8 8s. od., and are in my custody, witnes my hand, being mark'd wth. the letters A. W., 1692.

Jams. Watts."

I also copied the following entry from the same book, at the same time, relative to another cup, which is not now (1896) in trustee's possession, of which they have no knowledge, and of which I fail to hear anything.—G. E. E.:—

"1753. I acknowledge that Robt. Balch, Esq., delivered to me a silver Quart Cup, wt. 14 ozs., with the Arms of his Family engraven on it, which is to be wholly for the use of the Presbyterian Society in Bridgwater at the Administration of ye Lo.'s Supper, and not as my property, witness my hand, this first day of Jan., 1753. Dear Sir or Madam,

The Minister and Council extend you a cordial invitation to the Special Services to be held on Sunday, October 16th 1927, at 10-45 a.m. and 6-30 p.m. to mark the re-opening of the Chapel for worship after the restoration necessitated by the fire last January.

The Rev. C. J. Street, M.A., LL.B., President of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association will preach.

The Morning Service will be a Re-dedication Service.

Yours faithfully,

J. W. Wright, Chairman of the Council.

A. Nicholson, Financial Warden.

J. H. Cooper, Secretarial Warden.

THIS COMMUNION SERVICE WAS PRESENTED TO THE UNITARIAN CHURCH BY THE REV. JAMES BRIERLEY, MOSSLEY HALL, CONGLETON, MAY, 1873.

NOTE.—The Rev. James Brierley, M.A., Cantab, J.P., died 29 Dec., 1887, aged 74. He was first incumbent, and for 25 years vicar of Mossley Church, which was built on ground given by his uncle, Mr. James Brierley. The vicar resigned in 1871, having "adopted doctrines more in accord with Unitarianism." He became a benefactor of this church by preaching, teaching, and gifts; and actively interested himself in its schools and services until his death. He was the largest contributor to the fund for the erection of the present handsome church.—G. E. E.

Our Anniversary.—It was on the last Sunday of November in the year 1722 that the first Services were conducted in our present sanctuary. The Rev. J. Jennings, M.A. preached in the morning and the Rev. (afterwards Dr.) Philip Doddridge preached in the afternoon. In its outward appearance the Chapel has not changed much, but internally the two hundred and seven years have brought about many changes. Truly inspiring is the story of our cause, enriched, as it is, by the sanctities and sacrifices and charged with the uplifting memories of many generations. It is precious heritage, and we too, in our time in so far as we are loyal to that great cause are adding to that growing heritage.

KIRKSTEAD.

INTERIOR OF ABBEY CHAPEL, WITH PULPIT DATED 1620, FROM WHICH JOHN TAYLOR, D.D., PREACHED.

As the door of Abbey Chapel is now screwed up, and admission refused by the owner to all comers, I had no alternative but to photograph the interior through the keyhole, which I did at 6-30 a.m. on 14 August, 1906.—G. E. E.

NOTE.—The trustees of this chapel own a small square MS. vol., being Some short Account or brief Hints of all Questions proposed, Cases discussed, Determinations made, and other Occurrences at the several Meetings of the Cheshire Ministers held in that county, An. Dom. 1691 and [to 1745]. The following inscription is written on the inner front cover by Henry Green, M.A.:—Presented to the Trustees of the Brook St. Old Dissenters' Chapel, Knutsford, January 1st, 1873, by the late Minister, Henry Green, to whom it was given by William Turner, late of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, who was the son of Mr. William Turner, of Allostock, mentioned in this book as ordained Aug. 7, 1739. Signed, Henry Green. The volume contains the minutes of 122 Meeting, viz.:—1 at Chelford, 1 at Chester, 1 at Dean Row, 104 at Knutsford, 3 at Macclesfield, 8 at Ministers' houses, 2 at Nantwich, 1 at Stockport, 1 at Warrington. The first was held at Macclesfield, Mar. 1690/1, the last at Knutsford, 3 Sept., 1745. Seen by me on 29 Nov., 1894, at Brook House, Knutsford, in care of Mr. Alfred Holt, a trustee of the chapel.—G. NOTE.—In the Library belonging to this Congregation is a thin, small quarto MS. vol. containing the minutes of 8 meetings of the Warrington Class, viz., one at Ashton, 31 May, 1722; one at Gateacre, 17 March, 1719/20; four at Liverpool, 22 April, 1719; 9 Aug., 1721; 20 Sept., 1721; 8 Nov., 1721; and two at St. Helens, 6 Aug., 1719, and 1 Feb., 1721/22.

This inscription is written on front page:—

"This book appertains to the Warrington Class, being bought by the Ministers thereof 1719."

It was originally bound in vellum, and so continued till 1872; between then and 1886 the cover was removed. In 1887 the leaves (uncut) were gathered together and bound in their present leather cover by G. E. E., who also made a line for line copy of the entries.

The meeting on 8 Nov., 1721, was "at Castle Hey Chappel, in Leverpool, beginning at Ten a clock," when "a Day of Humiliation" was "observed upon account of the plague," there being present Chas. Owen, moderator and preacher; Henry Roughley, John Kennion, Joseph Gellibrand, Christopher Basnett, Tetlaw, Alx: Wright, Jos. Lawton, —. Mather, and Henry Winder, Scribe.

Henry Winder's library, and some of his MSS. also belong to this Congregation. Amongst the remains now in the library are the MSS.: "My last Sermon preached in ye old Chappel on Wednesday, June 28, 1727." 1 Peter iv. 8. ["And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins"]; and "An Account of ye Recaits and Disbursments of ye Sacrim^t. money at Castle Hey Chappel, 16 Nov., 1718, to 20 Dec., 1725."

Other MSS. in this Library include a bound volume of Rev. John Seddon's lectures, Warrington, 1767–70; and the folio of Octagon Chapel (q. v.) Papers, 1762, both being gifts of the late Mr. Henry Arthur Bright.

Amongst many rare printed volumes, liber rarissimus, is surely New Testament; Gr. and Eng., containing the original text and a new version, 2 vols., London, 8vo., 1729. It is anonymous, but by Daniel Mace (min. Newbury, 1726/27–1753), and is the first English attempt at a critical text, an odd version oddly printed.

Of this Congregation I was a member from 1 Jan., 1874 to 30 June, 1889; of its Sunday School a teacher from 4 Jan., 1874, to 27 Oct., 1877; and its superintendent from 4 Nov., 1877, to 30 June, 1889; of the Chapel Council a member from 29 Feb., 1880, to 30 June, 1889; and of the Library and Publication Committee a member from 13 March, 1881, to 30 June, 1889.—G. CROYDON.—We profoundly regret to hear that the Rev. E. M. Geldart is missing. We observe that the public papers are supplied with the following paragraph:—"MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.—SUPPOSED SUICIDE.—On Saturday afternoon the particulars transpired of the mysterious disappearance from Croydon of the Rev. Edmund Martin Geldart, M.A., Oxon, who was until a fortnight ago the minister in charge of the Free Christian Church, Wellesley-road, Croydon. It appeared that the missing gentleman, for whose safety the gravest possible fears are entertained by his friends, formerly held a curacy in Liverpool, at which time he was an English Churchman, but, entertaining broad views, he went over to the Unitarians, and became the pastor of the above-mentioned church. His opinions on many subjects were regarded as strictly socialistic, and on many occasions he expounded these principles both in lectures and in the columns of local newspapers. In consequence of the tone of his discourses, he recently incurred the displeasure of his congregation, and was allowed by the committee to resign. This is said to have preyed on his mind, and owing to his depressed condition, he was persuaded by his relations to go on the Continent for a while. He expressed a wish to take a trip to the Mediterranean and visit Constantinople, but his wife was adverse to his going so far. The rev. gentleman then decided to go to France, to stay with M. Reiman, an old friend of his, who has been for twenty years a French master in various colleges in Croydon. On the evening of Friday, the 10th inst., Mr. Geldart left home, and proceeded to East Croydon Station, where he took a single ticket for Paris. At this time he was very unwell, and his wife, who accompanied him to the station, placed him in a compartment with another gentleman, and asked the

PLATE.

Flagon (1), silver, 12 inches tall, handle, lid, no beak. London date letter, 1718–19. Crest much worn, apparently a stag's head, antlered, rising out of crown or collar. Below:—

Ex Dono, N. Gaskell.

The Ex Dono has evidently been an after-insertion; this applies also to all the other pieces so marked.

Flagon (1), silver, 12 inches tall, handle, lid; no beak, no crest. London date letter, 1752–53. No inscription.

Cups (3), silver, 10⅛, 9⅞, 9½ inches tall, plain bell, knop, stem, foot, round, no handles. London date letter, 1718–19. All have same crest as above flagon, and inscription—

Ex Dono, N. Gaskell.

Cup (1), silver, 9⅞ inches tall, plain bell, knop, stem, foot, round; no handles, no crest, no inscription. London date letter, 1752–53.

Chalice (1), silver, 5½ inches tall, bell, foot, round. Date letter much worn. Inscription on bell:—

The Gift of Anne Bayley, 1790.

Patens (3), silver, 15 inches diameter, 1¾ inches tall, foot, stem, round. In centre of three, same crest and inscription as on above (1) flagon, and 3 chalices. London date letter, 1718–19.

All these pieces were exhibited at the meeting held in the Memorial Hall, Manchester, on 25 June, 1894, to commemorate the Bi-centenary of Cross Street Chapel, where seen by me.—G. E. E.

PLATE.

Chalice (1), silver, porringer shape, $2\frac{3}{8}$ inches tall, $4\frac{1}{4}$ inches diameter, bold ornamentation, burnished on finely-punched ground, consisting of an oval medallion in centre, on each side of this a plant with 4 radial leaves, a stiff upright stalk with 3 conventional bell-like flowers, semi-petalous; following the flowers, and dividing the two sides of the chalice, are elegantly-designed fleurs-de-lis; the lower part of the handles are attached to the chalice in the centre of the fleurs-de-lis. Maker's mark, apparently a Roman capital M, on a shield. London date letter, 1641–42. No inscription.

This chalice is the oldest piece of plate owned by any congregation belonging to the Province of Lancashire and Cheshire.

Chalice (1), silver, porringer or caudle shape, 5 inches diameter, $4\frac{1}{8}$ inches tall; base has poppies and lilies in high relief. On medallion, between handles, AI. No inscription. London date letter, 1660–61.

NOTE.—In 1874 these two chalices were sold, and passed into private hands. In 1895 they were restored to Platt Chapel, on the one condition that they are to remain the property of the Trustees, who receive them on the understanding that they are never to be again alienated by sale or otherwise. Both chalices, in small oak chest, seen by me in Sept., 1895, in custody of Charles T. Poynting, B.A.—G. E. E.

AN INQUIRY.

Sir,—I read with astonishment and pain a review of M. Loisy's book in the Inquirer of April 11th by Rev. W. E. Addis. From that review he would seem to accept the three Creeds of the English Church, to prefer Romanism to Puritanism, and, at all events, he defends the Church of Rome in her darkest and most wicked days. May I ask Mr. Addis if this is so? If this is so, does he consider it consistent to hold an appointment in a free but Nonconformist college, and especially in a college almost wholly maintained by Unitarians?

Arthur W. Fox.

Resolution of 29 Oct., 1722, preserved among the church deeds:—

"Whereas Mrs. Joan Green has been pleased of her bounty to bestow two silver cups or muggs on the Church of Christ, in Poole, of which Wm. Madgwick is pastor, for the use of the said church in the celebration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and a brass candlestick, We promise and engage that neither we ourselves, nor our executors, administrators, or assigns shall or will alienate them to any other use, and that in case any such contentions should rise as to cause a breach or division in the said church, it shall be in the power of the said Mrs. Green, during the term of her natural life, and after her decease it shall be in the power of her executors, to dispose of the said two silver cupps or muggs, and candlestick, to such branch of the division as she or her executors shall think fit. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands this twenty-ninth day of October, Anno Domini 1722.

"Wm. Madgwick, Richard Sutton, John Linthorne, Thomas Joyce, Wm. ffooke, Benjamin Biford, John Hookey, John Rose, Ino. Ollive, George Ollive, Timothy Bird, Richard Bushell."

The cups referred to in this resolution are now (1896) in possession of Skinner Street Congregational Church, which represents the secession from the original church in 1758.

The Rev. Harold Davies, whose absence from the Pudsey Unitarian pulpit last Sunday created considerable surprise and anxiety, has explained to a "Leeds Mercury" reporter the reasons of his peculiar action. It seems he had changed his belief on a fundamental point, and could not longer remain in the Unitarian pulpit. His departure from Pudsey was not due to sudden impulse, but was the result of a mental conflict which had been going on for months, and in a spiritual conflict formalism could have no place. He was urged on by forces which were irresistible, and felt that Christ's divinity could not be disputed. On Sunday evening he should have preached on the Incarnation and Resurrection, and it was while thinking over his sermon on Saturday evening that the crisis came. The sermon was prepared, but it was a living lie. If he had stayed to deliver that sermon he would have compromised his honesty, acted a lie, and perhaps misled those he had promised to lead into the ways of truth. The cause of his change of view was a newspaper controversy he had in "The Pudsey News" with the Rev. Jas. Waring, then Curate at Pudsey, now Curate at St. Mark's, Manningham. From that time doubts concerning the fundamental te[nets] Unitarianism had grown, until they had compelled the action that has created so much surprise.

PUDSEY CHURCH

MISSING MINISTER FOUND.

Belief in Unitarianism Shaken.

WILL ABANDON THE MINISTRY.

The Rev. W. Harold Davies, Unitarian minister, Pudsey, Leeds, who disappeared mysteriously last Saturday, has been located at Bradford. He has been staying in a quiet hotel, and has been seen by our Pudsey correspondent. He stated that some months ago he entered into a newspaper controversy with the Rev. James Waring, a Bradford curate, on the Divinity of Christ, and his sudden departure from Pudsey was not due to impulse, but to mental conflict which had been going on since the controversy. On Saturday he was preparing a sermon on the Dean of Ripon, and this brought on the crisis. The sermon was prepared, but it was a living lie—it was not the expression of his present faith. If he had stayed to deliver that sermon he would have compromised his honesty, acted a lie, and perhaps misled those he had promised to lead into the ways of truth. It was not cowardice; cowardice did not lead a man to forsake friends, position, and a comfortable living, and step into the cold world with absolutely no prospect in life because conscience demanded it. "But, God help me," he added, "I could do no other. The operation was painful, but it was the only way." Mr. Davies is staying in Bradford, and will not leave the district. He intends going into secular life.

THE INQUIRER.

PORTRAITS OF MINISTERS.

SIR,—For some years I have been endeavouring to obtain portraits of past ministers of the Blackwater-street and Clover-street Unitarian Churches at Rochdale (now amalgamated), and I have succeeded in obtaining twenty-one, which are placed in the vestries. Portraits of those named below are what I still require; and I should be glad to hear if any are known to be in existence, or if there are any descendants through whom I might inquire. All I want is to obtain permission to have photographic copies taken for presentation to the church, and I shall feel very much obliged for any assistance in my work.

Robert Bathe, 1604–1674. Educated at Oxford. Ejected from Rochdale Parish Church.

Henry Pendlebury, 1626–1695. Educated at Christ's College, Cambridge. Ejected from Holcombe. Minister at Bury and Rochdale.

Joseph Dawson, 1667(?)–1739. Educated at Rathmell. Minister at Hartford, Yorks., and at Rochdale.

Josiah Owen, 1711(?)–1755. Educated at Warrington and Caermarthen. Minister at Bridgnorth, Walsall, and Stone, Staffs., and at Rochdale.

Thomas Hopkins, –1754. Educated at Caermarthen. Minister at Middlewich, Northwich, and Rochdale.

Richard Bolton. Minister at Rochdale 1754–1771, then at Monton and Preston.

William Hassall, 1751(?)–1829. Educated at Warrington. Minister at Rochdale. Retired 1776.

Thomas Threlkeld, 1739–1806. Educated at Daventry Academy and Warrington. Minister at Risley and Rochdale.

Gilbert William Elliott, 1781(?)–1847. Educated at Hoxton Academy. Minister at Burton-on-Trent, Coventry (Vicar-lane), Fulwood, Risley, Rochdale, and Prescot.

George Winchester Philp, 1811(?)–1845. Educated at Manchester College, York. Minister at Brentford and Rochdale.

NOTE.—T. P. Spedding writes, 3 July, 1895: "This old communion service was found, after search, in 1891, at the warehouse of the late Mr. Robert Taylor Heape, J.P. There are no signs beyond the initials $\frac{S.}{S.\ M.}$ to denote the donor. Probably the initials refer to a member of the Milne family, early in the 18th century. No living person remembers anything of these vessels."

MINISTER'S WIFE GRANTED DECREE NISI.

In the Divorce Court yesterday Mrs. Kate Emily Pearson asked for the dissolution of her marriage on the ground of the desertion and misconduct of her husband, George Challen Pearson, formerly a Unitarian minister. The charges were not denied.

Mr. Barnard K.C. said the parties lived at Selby, Yorkshire, down to April, 1835, where Mr. Pearson had a church. The wife had to complain of her husband's conduct in regard to a lady named Mary Hurst, who assisted him in his work at the church. Mrs. Pearson afterwards went to her parents, Mr. Pearson having decided to give up the church, the arrangement being that her husband should come there later. He never did return, and he left this country for America with Mary Hurst. Subsequently, at his parents' house, she saw her husband, who asked her to take divorce proceedings, but she told him she had not the means. His mother offered to assist her to the extent of £50, and later an additional £100 was offered.

Petitioner said she received a letter in 1905 from her husband, containing these lines:

"In another part of the world I shall commence a new existence, in which the past will be blotted out or remain as part of a dream. I have no dread of gossip, and no one can delight more than I do to laugh at conventionality."

Petitioner was asked by Mr. Barnard: Did you agree to accept any money?—Witness: I believe I did.

His Lordship: Are you going to get any money for bringing these proceedings?—I do not know.

Are you expecting any if this divorce comes off?—Yes.

Are you bringing this suit in order to get money?—No, my lord.

Further evidence was called, and eventually his lordship expressed himself satisfied, granting a decree nisi, with costs.

"Notes on Nonconformity in Shrewsbury," Eddowes's Journal, 8 July, 1891.

Inq., 21 March, 1885, and 7 Nov., 1891.

NOTES.—The following inscription, written by Francis Tallents, M.A., placed over the inner entrance doors:—

> This place was not built for a faction or a party, but to promote repentance and faith in communion with all those who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made Heaven and Earth.

In the church, amongst many other marble tablets, is this one:—

> To the Memory of
> CHARLES ROBERT DARWIN,
> Author of The Origin of Species.
> Born in Shrewsbury,
> February 12th, 1809.
> In early life a member of > and a constant worshipper > in this Church.
> Died April 19th, 1882.

In the vestry are Job Orton's chair, and a large oil painting of the royal arms, formerly suspended over the pulpit.

The fine clock on front of organ gallery, facing pulpit, is dated 1724.

Bridport Unitari

The Bridport congregation traces its history back to the time immediately following the Act of Uniformity of 1662, when over 2,000 clergymen who for conscience sake refused to conform to the Prayer Book, were ejected from their livings. In 1672 the Rev. Richard Downe, one of the ejected, formerly clergyman of Winterborne Monkton, near Dorchester, had a house licensed in Bridport as a place of public worship. This is considered to be the origin of the congregation which ultimately became Unitarian. Mr Downe was described as an "Independent," and in 1729, the congregation is reckoned as belonging to the Independents. The house licensed for public worship was altered and made into the Dissenting Meeting House, and the list of members at that time included about 100 names. Under the Conventicle Act, and the Five Mile Act of Charles II., the Dissenters suffered considerable persecution, and in August, 1680, Mr Downe and some of his congregation were imprisoned. More than 8,000 Nonconformists died in prison in the reign of Charles II.

In the Monmouth Rebellion of 1685, many Bridport Nonconformists took part and twelve Bridport people were executed as rebels. Mr Downe died in 1687, and was succeeded by an evangelical preacher—Mr. Samuel Baker—and [illegible] the pastor of the Church of [illegible] and recto[illegible] in 1727 [illegible] minister[illegible] tion, [illegible] Collin[illegible] gener[illegible] tomb[illegible] yard [illegible] Uni[illegible] co[illegible] ng[illegible] T[illegible]

PLATE.

An old pewter set, now lost.

One almsdish, pewter, plain, 15 inches diameter. Inscription in centre :—

THIS ANCIENT ALMSDISH,
USED IN THE PRESBYTERIAN CHAPEL, DODINGTON,
LOST IN 1843,
WAS RECOVERED, AND GIVEN TO THE TRUSTEES, FOR USE IN THE
CHURCH OF THE SAVIOUR, WHITCHURCH, BY THE
REV. GEORGE EYRE EVANS.
1893.

This dish formed a portion (No. 418) of the collection of pewter vessels lent to the Ecclesiastical Art Exhibition, in connection with the Church Congress, Shrewsbury, 1896.

MEMORIAL BRASSES.

The 23 brasses—covering, in 41 lives, a period of 164 years, from Thomas Yate, born 1672, to Mrs. Benyon, died 1836—which were on the walls of this chapel, were carefully removed, and placed on the north and south walls of the Church of The G.E.E.

Saviour, Highgate, Whitchurch, of which I am minister, in 1894 and 1896. A full account of them will be found in the Church Chronicle (No. 35) for Feb., 1896, and in the Transactions of the Monumental Brass Society, No. 6, new series, Jan., 1897.

NOTE.—Regular worship ceased in this chapel in 1844. On 9 Dec., 1891, the building was sold by public auction—I being present—for £161, to Mr. John A. Roberts, who had for some time used it as his school-house. Proceeds were handed over to the British and Foreign School Society, by Mr. J. H. Warburton Lee, solicitor, of Broad Oak.—G. E. E.

TOPOGRAPHY.

Inq., 19 March and 26 Nov., 1870.

Note.—It is certain that the present congregation is in direct succession of the earlier Unitarian cause in Dundee, the ministers of which were—

Thomas Fyshe Palmer	1785–1788
Robert Millar, Elder	1788–1830?
William Smith	1830–1833?
Henry Clarke	Nov., 1834–1836
David G—— Coghill	1836–1837?

after whose escapade (which killed the project of a chapel, for which there is a subscription list extant, headed by Lord Halyburton) there was no public worship; yet a number of the members, amongst whom was Mr. George Speed—who, upwards of 90 years of age, was present at the opening services of the present chapel—kept together, and there certainly was private worship in 1862.

David G. Coghill must not be confused with his contemporary, Donald M. R. Coghill.

For interesting details, see Dict. Nat. Biog., for Thomas Fyshe Palmer.

NOTE.—Edward Brice, M.A., is sometimes wrongly said to have been first nonconforming minister here. On 29 Dec., 1613, he was deposed at Glasgow. The first known preferment held by him in Ireland was the prebend of Kilroot, September, 1619, which he held till 1636. He held also the cure of Ballycarry, but there was no church for him to preach in till 1622. Doubtless he was a theoretical Presbyterian, but in Ireland he was not one in practice, though silenced in 1636 for nonconformity. The Presbyterian congregation begins in 1646.

PLATE.

Cups (6), silver, 7⅛ inches tall, bell, stem, foot. Inscription—

THE GIFT OF MARRIOTT DALWAY, ESQ., OF BELLAHILL, TO THE
OLD PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION OF BROADISLAND, IN CONNECTION WITH THE REMONSTRANT SYNOD OF ULSTER.
1832.

NOTE.—Under Marriott Dalway's forefathers the occupants of Red Hall and Castle Dobbs held as tenants.

The old silver cups and the silver christening bason are in the hands of the congregation which seceded during William Glendy's ministry, at the time of the Remonstrant separation. The first minister of the seceding congregation was John Stuart. The inscription on the cups is—

THE GIFT OF CAPTAIN EDWARD BRICE.

They also bear the Brice arms with motto—"Do well, doubt not."

The christening bason is inscribed on rim—

THE GIFT OF
ARCHIBALD EDMONSTONE, ESQ.,
OF THIS CHRISTENING BASON TO THE
PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION OF BROADISLAND.

On the bottom of the bowl are the Edmonstone arms and motto—"Virtus auget Honorem."

I saw all this plate at Ballycarry on 22 August, 1892.—G. E. E.

CUPS AND ALMS DISHES

1874.—Six new flagons introduced at Communion.

The seven silver cups are here pictured. In addition to the Stewart and Craford inscriptions, a third cup has engraved upon it the words "Iames Martin." The remaining four cups have no inscriptions, and the date letters on all are more or less worn.

There are also 6 pewter patens, 9 inches in diameter, and 6 modern electro flagons.

Almsdishes.—These two plated dishes are also here pictured. One is inscribed—

JOHN HESELTON'S GIFT
TO ALL THE MEETING-HOUSES IN BELFAST.
1721.

Old Psalm Book.—Here is also pictured the copy of "The Psalms of David in Meeter," on the fly-leaf of which is written—

DAVID SMITH'S GIFT TO BELFAST MEETING-HOUSE.
1705.

The covers are of tortoiseshell, silver mounted.

The Pulpit.—Here is also pictured the pulpit, which cost £27 18s. 4d., and was presented by the "ladys of Belfast," irrespective of creed. In this pulpit, in 1789, John Wesley preached. On p. 21 of Historic Memorials we read that "he would have preached a second time, but on the first occasion the crowd swarmed all over the building, and in the commotion some unconverted hearer managed to abstract the silver rim and clasp from the pulpit Bible, so the Trustees declined to grant their Meeting-house again to the great evangelist."

Collection Plates.—The 6 wooden plates are inscribed—

C—G—N.

NOTE.—The Rev. CLEMENT EDWARDS PIKE, of Holywood, says:—"Robert Cunningham is regarded as the founder of Presbyterianism in Holywood. He was inducted on November 9th, 1615, and was silenced on August 10th, 1636, for Nonconformity. In 1642 an Eldership was erected in Holywood, a minister being sent for that purpose from the Presbytery which had been formed at Carrickfergus on June 10th, 1642 (see A True Narrative of the Rise and Progress of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, by the Rev. Patrick Adair, p. 96, Killen's edition). On 8th of April, 1644, the Covenant was administered at Holywood (see the original document preserved in the Museum of the Belfast Natural History Society). The Rev. George Wallace, a member of the Presbytery that met at Ballymena on April 8th, 1659, was settled at Holywood (see A True Narrative, &c., by Adair; note to Killen's edition, p. 225). George Wallace conformed at the Restoration, and was admitted Vicar of Holywood on December 12th, 1661 (ibid., p. 262). It was probably after this event that the union with Dundonald took place."

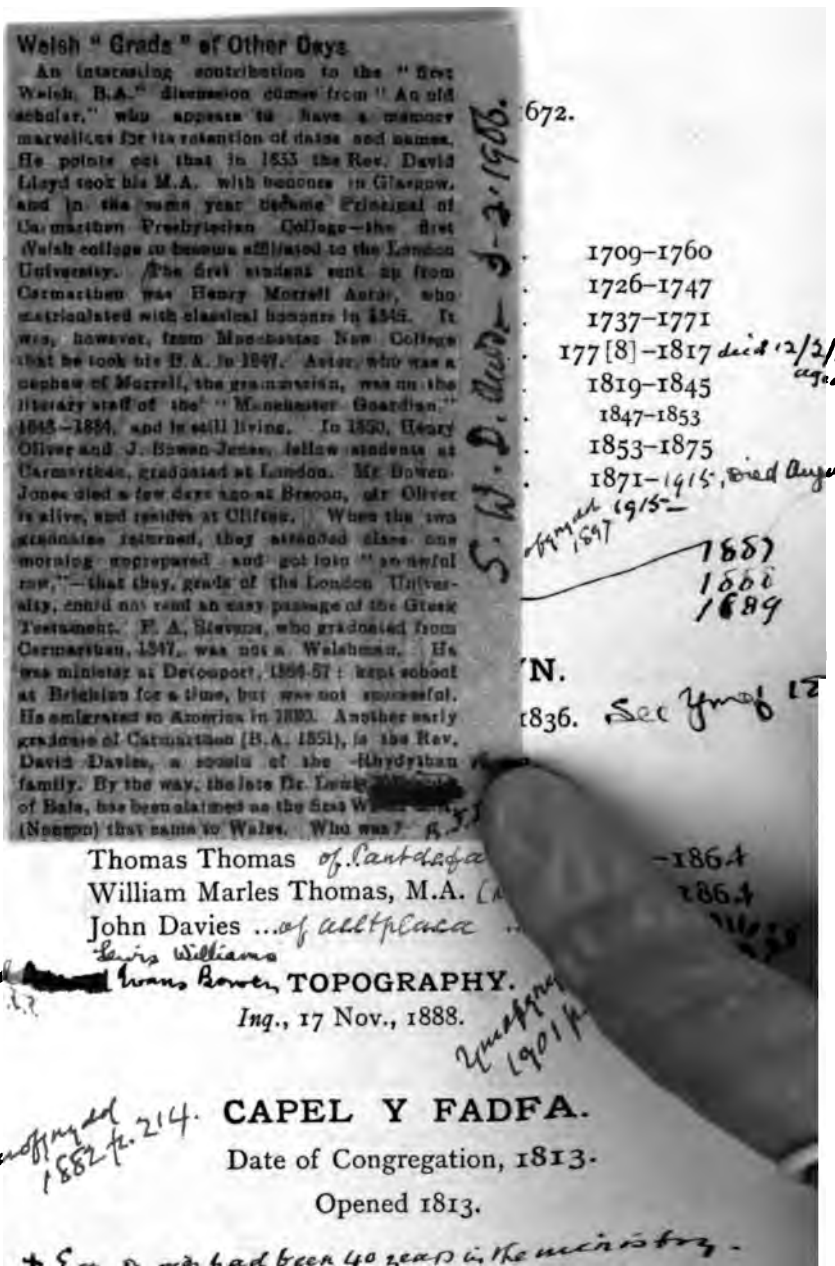
Arthur Williams died



Welsh "Grads" of Other Days

An interesting contribution to the "first Welsh B.A." discussion comes from "An old scholar," who appears to have a memory marvellous for its retention of dates and names. He points out that in 1833 the Rev. David Lloyd took his M.A. with honours in Glasgow, and in the same year became Principal of Carmarthen Presbyterian College—the first Welsh college to become affiliated to the London University. The first student sent up from Carmarthen was Henry Morrell Astor, who matriculated with classical honours in 1845. It was, however, from Manchester New College that he took his B.A. in 1847. Astor, who was a nephew of Morrell, the grammarian, was on the literary staff of the "Manchester Guardian," 1848–1854, and is still living. In 1850, Henry Oliver and J. Bowen-Jones, fellow students at Carmarthen, graduated at London. Mr Bowen-Jones died a few days ago at Brecon, Mr Oliver is alive, and resides at Clifton. When the two graduates returned, they attended class one morning unprepared and got into "an awful row,"—that they, grads of the London University, could not read an easy passage of the Greek Testament. E. A. Stevens, who graduated from Carmarthen, 1847, was not a Welshman. He was minister at Devonport, 1856-57; kept school at Brighton for a time, but was not successful. He emigrated to America in 1893. Another early graduate of Carmarthen (B.A. 1851), is the Rev. David Davies, a scion of the Rhydybun family. By the way, the late Dr. Lewis [redacted] of Bala, has been claimed as the first W[redacted] (Newport) that came to Wales. Who was?

From this fourth chapel the congregation was evicted on a legal point, on 20 Oct., 1876. On the following Sunday, worship was conducted by William Marles Thomas, M.A., in the open air near to the chapel. His text was S. Matthew x, 28. Until the opening of the fifth chapel in 1879, worship was regularly conducted in a temporary wooden building by the road side. The old chapel and its grave yard were eventually restored to the congregation, and the chapel is now used for the purposes of the Sunday School.

NOTE.—In the fourth chapel I was a regular worshipper, Jan., 1872–Dec., 1873, during which period I lived with, and was under the tuition of my revered master, William Marles Thomas, M.A., at the Llandyssul Grammar School; and here it was I made my first communion, at his hands, on Sunday, 2 March, 1873. He died on 11 Dec., 1879, just after the opening of the present chapel, in front of which he is buried. The eviction was a blow which told upon his constitution—a delicate one at the best—and from that event till the day of his death he was not the same man. He was a poet of no mean order; many hymns are from his pen, and his translation into Welsh of Tennyson's "Oh, yet we trust that somehow good, may be the final goal of ill" is very fine. His last poetical production, on his death bed, was in memory of his friend, Islwyn, whose tutor he had been.—G. E. E.

IN EARLY DAYS.

SIR,—My old friend, Rev. Jeffrey Worthington, is mistaken when (in your issue for December 9th) he supposes that Rev. W. Napier was the author of the prologue to the dramatic performance in which Miss Beard was the bright particular star. The writer was a certain Peter Livingstone, who hailed from Dundee, and was, I believe, a protégé of George Gilfillan. He came to Manchester partly to assist in Dr. Beard's school, and partly to supply some of the smaller pulpits in the neighbourhood—I heard him give a brilliant sermon in Dob-lane Chapel—in order that the Doctor might learn whether he had in him the making of a Unitarian minister. He was the author of a really meritorious volume of poems in the Scottish dialect.

At that time there happened to be in the school a German master named Crains. Unfortunately, he also was a poet, and had a big MS. volume for which he had long been in vain seeking a publisher. As so often happens, the two poets were soon at "daggers drawn." In the prologue which Livingstone recited occurred the lines:

"Here's Crains to treat us to a German song;
"He cannot sing too often, or too long."

Napier and I looked surprised, for we well knew the kind of affection which the poets bore toward each other. The explanation was soon forthcoming. When the play was finished, Crains came to the front of the stage with his German music in his hand. All went well till he was about half through his song, when suddenly the green baize curtain fell with the result that Crains was completely eclipsed, and the sheets of music sent flying over the heads of the audience. Crains rushed behind the scenes, seized Livingstone by the collar, and, shaking him violently, exclaimed, in his imperfect English, "You rascal! It was you set down the 'rags.'"

Some years after, I came across Livingstone under rather amusing circumstances. He had a long pointer in his hand, and was acting as attendant or guide in "Wyld's Great Globe" in Leicester-square. Just as we had recognised each other, a lady came up to him and said: "Can you tell me, sir, where in the Pacific Ocean is the island ——; for my son writes me word that the man-o'-war in which he is employed is near there." Livingstone's pointer at once indicated a small island. The lady was delighted at having learned the whereabouts of her boy in blue, and was profuse in her thanks. As she turned away Livingstone said to me: "How can I tell where the precious island is; but the good mother is just as happy as if I could."

I should much like to know if Livingstone is still living, and whether in the course of his career he has found his way into any pulpits. He had real poetry in his composition, which is more than could be said for Crains.

Swansea Chapel Ablaze.

GOOD WORK BY THE FIRE BRIGADE.

On Monday afternoon a fire broke out at the Unitarian Chapel, Swansea. The flames were discovered issuing from the roof of the school-room, which is above the chapel, and faces High-street, and the fire brigade, who were soon on the scene, were able to confine the flames to this portion of the structure. For this much credit is due to the brigade, who, under the superintendence of Inspector Edwards, worked valiantly. The roof of the schoolroom was practically destroyed, the other damage being to the rooms below, chiefly by water, and to the kitchen of the Alexandra Coffee Tavern, adjoining. The damage is estimated at about £200.

Mr Lewis Davis (Hywyn Ddewi) was a man of note in his day. The Baptist churches at this time were zealous on behalf of the Calvinistic doctrines. Mr D. was [illegible] to the arminian doctrines, and so was expelled. He was for 20 years out of the Baptist communion for believing doctrines which are held by the majority. While out, he succeeded in restoring the church at Llangyndeyrn, which had fallen into Socinianism. — J. T. — Hanes y Bedyddwyr, 2d Ed. Editorial note.

THE MEETING OF CHESHIRE MINISTERS

(UNITED BRETHREN).

Founded 1691; regular minutes extant to 1745; absorbed 1765.

MEETINGS were held regularly twice a year, from 1693 onward, on the second Tuesday in May and August. In 1722 the latter meeting was postponed till September; it reverted to August in 1736; but from 1740 till the time when the records cease, the month of meeting (with one exception, 1741) was again September. Besides these ordinary meetings—which were held at Knutsford, with only four exceptions as to place, since 1692—occasional extraordinary meetings were held at other places, chiefly for the purpose of conferring ordination.

The Minute Book, formerly in the possession of Henry Green, M.A., and given by him to the trustees of Brook Street Chapel, Knutsford (q.v.), is kept with the utmost regularity and neatness from 1691 to 1745, and supplies no internal indication of the cause of its sudden cessation. Mr. Green's conjecture on the subject seems plausible. In 1746, William Turner, then minister of Allostock, near Knutsford, left from ill-health, and apparently took the minute book of the Ministers' Meeting with him, since it was through his descendants that it was restored to Cheshire, and given to Mr. Green.

THE PROVINCIAL MEETING OF MINISTERS OF THE COUNTIES OF LANCASTER AND CHESTER;

(NOW, THE PROVINCIAL ASSEMBLY OF PRESBYTERIAN AND UNITARIAN MINISTERS AND CONGREGATIONS OF LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE), 1765–1897.

THE union of the Provincial Meeting and the Cheshire Meeting took place in consequence of the institution of the Widows' Fund, which was projected in 1762 by the Provincial Meeting at Warrington. The Cheshire ministers were invited to join in its establishment, a proposal which they gladly accepted; and, in order to carry it out more completely, the Cheshire Meeting was discontinued, and the ministers of both counties met together at Warrington in June, 1765. There are no existing minute books of the Provincial Meeting till the year 1820, when its minutes were regularly kept, and when the Unitarian movement had assumed a distinct importance, and was already recognised in the official title of the Provincial Meeting. Nearly all we know of the history of the Provincial Meeting between 1765 and 1820 is due to the care of successive secretaries of the Widows' Fund, two of whom, however—Rev. Thomas Barnes, D.D., secretary 1783–1810, and Rev. William Johns, secretary 1814–1820, and subsequently—unfortunately, for our purpose, omit all distinct mention of the Provincial Meetings from their minutes. But between 1765 and 1782, and again in 1811 and 1812, we are furnished, not only with the names of the preachers, but apparently with a memorandum of every matter of importance.

A list of meeting places and of preachers since 1800 is to be found in the existing minute books of the Provincial Meeting. The portion of the following list, prior to 1800, is revised from the Report (1870), hereinafter mentioned.

The title, "Provincial Assembly," now officially adopted, does not appear at all before 1842; but its adoption as a customary designation of the Meeting, though not yet authorised, is apparent in nearly all printed documents referring to the Meeting since the introduction (1856) of the "delegate" system. For further information on this subject the reader is referred to the Report on the Laws and Usages of the Assembly, compiled by the Special Committee, which was appointed on 14th October, 1869, to examine the minutes of the Assembly, and to draw up a statement of the laws and usages of the Assembly from the beginning, and to print and circulate the same. This report was revised, adopted, and ordered to be published on 13th January, 1870.

Immediately after the last minutes, but in a later handwriting, is this note:—

"Mem.—No minutes appear to have been preserved from this time till May, 1733, for which, and the subsequent ones, see the Book marked No. 3."

It is probable that this mem., and those referring to the other minute books, referred to above, if we may judge by the writing, were made in the early part of this, the nineteenth century.

The above particulars are extracted from the original MS. minute book, a small quarto, largely in shorthand, which, since 1855, has been in the custody of Dr. Williams's Trustees, and is now in their library in Gordon Square. On the inner front cover is affixed a label with this inscription :—

This volume was in the possession of Bishop Trelawny, into whose hands I suspect it to have come from Mr. Bond, of Looe; who was an High Churchman, and obsequious servant of the Bishop, but whose near relative was an eminent Dissenting minister, whose name is on the inside of the cover of the volume. ["Bond, Sept. 5, 6, 1710."—G. E. E.] I have seen a treatise on some religious subject by this Mr. Bond, in the possession of the late Thomas Bond, Esq^re^ of Looe (author of an History of those Boroughs). It was in manuscript, and is now in the possession of Davies Gilbert, Esq^re^ of Eastbourne. P.R.S.

JONATHAN COUCH, Polperro, Cornwall.

There is also in the volume (loose) the interesting letter in which Mr. Couch hands the book to the trustees, by whose permission, at the hands of their librarian, Francis Henry Jones, B.A., I have had the volume on loan, and made copious extracts from it in my common-place book. I look upon this minute book as one of great value and importance, inasmuch as it proves, with the one noted below, the practice of requiring belief in the Trinity by the ministers during the period covered by the entries.

* * * * * * * * * *

The next series of meetings is extracted from another original MS. minute book, which I had the good fortune to discover amongst the papers and books of the late James Taplin, one of my father's predecessors in the ministry of George's Meeting, Colyton (q.v.), Devon, into whose hands it came some time between 1834–1847. I found it in 1888, and deposited it with Dr. Williams's Trustees, who kindly gave me a line-for-line copy of it, in the handwriting of their librarian. At the end of the MS. is a memorandum concerning two other books, making, with it, a set of three, and carrying the minutes back to September, 1721, and on to May, 1753. Where those other two books are I cannot say, but I am inclined to think that the late Jerom Murch must have seen them when writing the article on p. 548 of his History of Presbyterian and General Baptist Churches in the West of England, published in 1835. Possibly they may yet turn up; if so, the finder cannot do better than deposit them with their fellows. Whether such MSS. are public or private property is rather hard to say. The custom seems to have been for the scribe or clerk to keep the minutes as if they were his own, and in this way many minute books have been lost, either wholly or for a time.

Under date 7 and 8 May, 1728, there are the following entries in the minutes relating to the Assembly's care for certain Communion Vessels:—

"Agreed that Mr. Sloly be desir'd to deliver some pieces of silver plate he hath in his hands which he formerly us'd att the celebration of the Sacrament in Silverton. Mr. Sloly promis'd to comply wth the request of the Assembly, and to deliver the plate in the afternoon, he having a proper rec^{t} to Indemnify him.

"Mr. Sloly, according to his promise, bro^{t} the said pieces of plate to the Assembly, for which they gave him a rec^{t} in the following words, viz.:—May 8th, 1728. We, the Ministers of Devon now assembled, do hereby acknowledge y^{t} we have rec^{d} att the hands of the Rev$^{d.}$ Mr. John Sloly three pieces of silver plate (viz.), one silver plate mark'd in the brim $\frac{B}{W\ E}$ 1691, and on the backside the weight, 20 „ 12; one silver beaker, mark'd only in the bottom as to its weight, 5 „ 18, and one silver bowl, mark'd in the side, and with the weight in the bottom, 5 „ 10, being pieces of plate which he, the said Mr. Sloly, says he had us'd always in the celebration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper whilst he was minister of the Protestant Dissenting congregation at Silverton; for which pieces of plate, so rec'd by us, we promise to indemnify the said Mr. Sloly. Subscrib'd att the request and in the name of the ministers of Devon assembled on the above 8th of May by us—

JOHN LAVINGTON,
JOHN ENTY, Scribe.

"Agreed, that the Exeter ministers, upon advising wth some of the people of Silverton about the said, may deliver it if they think fit to Mrs. Elizabeth Gold, shee giving a proper rec^{t} for the same to indemnify the Assembly."

SOME ACCOUNT
OF THE
DUDLEY DOUBLE LECTURE.
1723–1865.

The late James Scott, Minister, Park Lane Chapel, Cradley (q. v.), 1789–1827, says, in his MS. history of that society, "The Rev. J. Willets preached in the house of Mr. Jos. Smith, situated on the turnpike road leading to Wolverhampton [from Dudley]. Here a regular society was formed; and the ejected ministers in the neighbourhood agreed to preach a double lecture on Whitsun Tuesday, which, after the removal of the society to the Chapel in Dudley, has been ever since continued there."

In the original minute book (now in keeping of the secretary for the time being of the Monthly Meeting of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of Warwickshire and neighbouring Counties, established 1782) there is this note on p. 4:—"I find that the Dudley Double Lecture took place immediately after, and in consequence of, the Act of Conformity being passed, i. e., 1662. That it was established by the ejected ministers of Dudley [no minister was ejected from Dudley] and the neighbourhood in commemoration of that event, and with the view of maintaining and extending the principles of dissent. We have no account of minutes before 1723, but I have ascertained the following — 1723, 1758, 1769, 1770, 1773."—J [ohn] P [almer].

SOME ACCOUNT
OF THE
"OLDBURY" DOUBLE LECTURE.
1776–1865.

Concerning this lecture, Job Orton says (27 June, 1775):—"I wondered very much when I was a child that no more notice was taken of Bartholomew's Day by the dissenters, as I had heard so much of it from my grandfather and others, pious relations and aged Christians. Oldbury lecture in this neighbourhood used to be preached in the week in which the 24th of August fell, and was instituted on purpose to commemorate these eminent men. I once preached there, and considered their case. But on account of the harvest it was put off to the middle of September [second Tuesday in September], which I think was wrong, as the object of the lecture was in time forgotten. I persuaded some ministers whom I could be free with, when they preached this lecture, to keep in view the intention of it, and they did so, much to the pleasure and edification of their hearers."

In his MS. history of Park Lane Chapel, Cradley (q. v.), James Scott says:—"Oldbury lecture has existed more than a century. Tradition reports that a stack of chimnies fell down at the Brades House, by which the Turton family were in imminent danger. To express their graditude for this deliverance they invited the neighbouring ministers to assist them in keeping a day of thanksgiving; who from that time annually assembled in the Dissenting Chapel in Oldbury. I have since learnt, from undoubted authority, that it was instituted to commemorate the ministers ejected on Bartholomew's Day, 1662."

David Maginnis, F.R.Hist.S., minister at Stourbridge (q. v.) 1862–1884, in his "Historical Sketch," read at the Centenary Celebration of the Monthly Meeting of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of Warwickshire and the neighbouring Counties, held in Birmingham, 13 December, 1882, says:—"A traditional account attributes the origin of the Oldbury Lecture to the following incident—The Turton family, who resided at the Brades, narrowly escaped serious injury from the falling of a part of their house, and they invited the neighbouring ministers to assist them in keeping a Day of Thanksgiving, and it has been stated that the ministers from that time annually assembled in the Oldbury Dissenting Chapel. The fact seems to be that the Oldbury Lecture, though not coeval with the Dudley Lecture, was founded for the same object by successors of the ejected ministers, and that the Brades accident occurring about the same time as one of the Oldbury Lectures was naturally made a prominent subject of thanksgiving by the brethren, the Turtons being an influential and much respected family, with whom the eminent minister of that name, of Birmingham and Oldbury, was closely connected."

The earliest reliable record of this lecture is the minute book, which begins in 1776.

SOME ACCOUNT OF THE MONTHLY MEETING OF PROTESTANT DISSENTING MINISTERS OF WARWICKSHIRE AND THE NEIGHBOURING COUNTIES, 1782–1897.

"The Monthly Meeting of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of Warwickshire and the neighbouring Counties" was formed in the year 1782. The records of the earlier years of its existence are very scanty of information. It is considered probable that the meetings grew out of private meetings of three ministers, viz., Samuel Clark, a minister (1756–1769) of the Old Meeting, Birmingham; Thomas Robins, Minister (1761–1776) of West Bromwich; and John Cole, Minister (1759–1781) of Wolverhampton, who met once a month at each other's houses for instructive conversation on literary and religious subjects, but without any public service, and they continued to meet till Mr. Clark's death in 1769. Mr. Robins afterwards removed to Daventry, and in 1775 succeeded Dr. Ashworth as principal of the Dissenting Academy of that place.

The first of the monthly Meetings was held at West Bromwich on 7 May, 1782, "at Rev. Mr. [Samuel] Brabrook's house," when several ministers assembled, and agreed to enter into the following resolutions:—

> "That we will meet together monthly for the purpose of mutual instruction and edification. . . . for public prayer and preaching in the morning at each other's places respectively. That in the afternoon we will more privately discuss some question of importance which was proposed the preceding meeting. That, in a book to be kept by W. Procter, minutes of each day's proceedings shall be entered."

Thanks to the care of the successive secretaries—William Procter, Alexander Paterson, William Bowen, Samuel Bache, John Gordon, David Maginnis, F.R.Hist.S., Charles Clarke, Samuel Fletcher Williams, Henry M'Kean, Arthur Ellis O'Connor, B.D., and Evan David Priestley Evans—minutes of every meeting have been kept, and the valuable series of minute books is in the custody of the secretary for the time being.

This was an Arian fraternity, and discussed topics from the very first; it must not be mixed with the much older and now extinct Double Lectures at Dudley and Oldbury.

The Centenary of the Monthly Meeting was celebrated on 13 December, 1882, at Birmingham, when an historical sketch was read at the morning meeting, in the lecture-room of the Church of the Messiah, by David Maginnis, F.R.Hist.S., followed by a public dinner under the presidency of Dr. Russell, J.P., and divine service in the evening in the Church of the Messiah, conducted by John Robberds, B.A., with sermon from S. Matt. xiii, 33, by Joseph Estlin Carpenter, M.A., of Manchester New College, London. The sketch, speeches and sermon were afterwards printed and circulated.

The members of the Monthly Meeting to-day are:—

Addison Alexander Charlesworth, minister since 1893 of Newhall Hill Church, Birmingham.

William Joshua Clark, minister since 1885 of Hurst Street Domestic Mission, Birmingham.

John Dale, living at Stratford-on-Avon without charge.

David Davis, B.A., living at Evesham without charge.

Rudolf Davis, B.A., minister since 1893 of Oat Street Meeting House, Evesham.

Peter Dean, minister since 1875 of Old Meeting, Walsall.

Henry Eachus, J.P., minister since 1865 of Old Meeting House, Coseley.

Evan David Priestley Evans, Secretary, minister since 1890 of New Meeting House, Kidderminster.

George Eyre Evans, living at Whitchurch, without charge.

Henry Gow, B.A., minister since 1893 of Great Meeting, Leicester.

Benjamin Kirkman Gray, minister since 1894 of High Street Chapel, Warwick.

Edward Potter Hall, B.A., minister since 1894 of Park Lane Chapel, Cradley.

John Harrison, Treasurer, minister at large since 1895 in the Province.

Henry Hill, minister since 1892 of Christchurch Chapel, Banbury.

John Howard, minister since 1887 of Long Street Chapel, Atherstone, and Cole Hill, Tamworth.

Lawrence Pearsall Jacks, M.A., minister since 1894 of Church of the Messiah, Birmingham.

Edward William Lummis, B.A., minister since 1895 of Lodge Road, West Bromwich.

Henry McKean, J.P., minister since 1858 of the Meeting House, Oldbury.

Thomas Pipe, minister since 1891 of Lower Fazeley Street Mission, Birmingham.

William George Price, minister since 1894 of Great Meeting, Hinckley.

Arrowsmith Hyde Shelley, minister since 1893, of Old Meeting House, Dudley.

James Christopher Street, minister since April, 1897, of High Street Church, Shrewsbury.

Arthur William Timmis, minister since 1884 of Presbyterian Chapel, Stourbridge.

Joseph Wood, minister since 1884 of Old Meeting Church, Birmingham.

Alfred William Worthington, J.P., B.A., F.S.S., living at Stourbridge, without charge.

The following suggestions, respecting the meetings, revised and completed by the Sub-Committee, which met on Monday, May 28th, for that purpose, were finally adopted at the Ministers' Meeting at West Bromwich, on Wednesday, June 6th, 1894 :—

1.—That in addition to the conduct of the formal business—

(a) Papers may be read on any subject connected with Religious Life and Thought;

(b) Services may be held at which a Sermon may be delivered;

(c) Topics of Public interest, or of immediate urgency may be considered; and any resolutions NOT of a party or sectarian character may be adopted.

2.—That the meetings shall commence with prayer.

3.—That at least once a year the Ministers shall be invited to bring their wives, so that they shall share in the social and intellectual proceedings of the meeting.

4.—That one of the meetings of the year be set apart for devotional purposes only, and that where it may be desired by those giving the invitation, the Communion Service may also be held in connection with the meeting.

5.—That, wherever practicable, an Evening Meeting of a public character shall be held.

INDEX OF MINISTERS
IN ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, IRELAND AND WALES.

NOTE.—Although every care has been taken in compiling this Index, it is just possible that different men, bearing the same names, may have been put under one heading, owing to the great difficulty there is, in some cases, of distinguishing between them.

Josiah Rees

Ecl more shot for your locker, unless you have them already. Josiah Rees of Gellionan kept one of the most perfect registers it has fallen to my lot to unearth – a two clasped pocket book, bound in green leather. From this I extract these data of his own family:

[redacted]

Samuel b. 21 May 1759, bapt. 7 June by Philip Thomas
Owen, b. 5 Oct 1770, bapt. 18 Oct. by Joseph Simmons
[illegible]or, b. 18 July 1772, bapt. 1 Aug. by Solomon Harris
Josiah b. 16 July 1773 bapt. 6 Aug. by David Davis
Hester, now L., b. 20 Nov. bapt. 15 Dec 1775, by Solomon Harris
Thomas b. Sept. 1777, bapt. by do.
Hannah b. 27 Aug. 1779 bapt. 20 Sept. by do
Richard b. 4 Aug. 1781, bapt. 19 Aug. by David Davis
Sarah, b. 24 June 1783, bapt. 12 July by Thos Morgan

Has also lists of those admitted to communion by J.R. 1767–1775, & names of members there at time of settlement, also a valuable letter by T.R.S. Rees, of which I have a copy.

Talhen rec'd to Rhos Cottage last week, hale and hearty.

Joseph William Smith — born — died 13, Sept. 1896

Domestic Missy at Bristol	1847 – 51
Presb. Coll Carm?	1851 – 53
Supplied neath & Aberpit	1852 – 53
Tiverton	1853 – 54
Colchester	1854 – 57
Lincoln	1857 – 61
Nottingham (Castle Church)	1861 – 66
Ipswich	1866 – 78
Ringwood	1878 – 90

Retired from the ministry at the latter date and died Sept. 13, 1896.

N.B. – The Joseph Smith who was minister at Idle was a different person – being a brother of George Smith, a once celebrated school master, at Lower Broughton Rd., Manchester. J.W. Smith was a brother of J. Certain Smith of Belper.

Southwood Smith contributed an a/c of the opening of Tunbury Chapel to the M. Record. (See C. Rec. 1849 p 47)

Rev. W^m Howell of Doncaster had a son Philip who seems to have been a clergyman & to have lost all sympathy with dissent & in his later years gained notoriety by distraining for Church-rate.
